ECUMENICAL MARRIAGE

Leaving the Roman Catholic Church.....

Leaving the Reformed Church.....

On special permissions from the Roman Catholic Bishop and the Reformed Church in Almelo (Holland), the first Ecumenical Marriage took place between a Protestant bride and a R.C. bridegroom. Two official wedding services were held, one in the R.C. Church by Father G.L. Veeger and one by the Rev. O.G. Burjes in the Reformed Church. This unique marriage shows that the Ecumenical feelings amongst the R.C.'s and Protestants in Europe are getting stronger and stronger. Regular combined services of the Roman Catholics and Protestants during Christmas and Easter are already quite normal. We wonder if our local

R.C. and Protestant Church officials could come to an agreement that at least during Christmas one or two combined services could be arranged to express the feelings of so many of our citizens that we are "one flock under the guidance of one shepherd." St. Albert, Alberta and Canada cannot afford that we stay behind in the tremendous world development of sincere and strong Christian relationship between the Roman Catholics and Protestants. Let St. Albert be a surprise for all those who still stay on the threshold which leads to a new world of religious adventure and understanding.

A BIG STEP FORWARD

St. Albert Clergy Gather

At a recent meeting in the Townsite Restaurant, pastors of all the congregations recently active in St. Albert gathered informally over coffee. Plans were made for a further meeting next month at which it is hoped that a wider ministerial association than has so far been possible will come into formal existence. Appreciation was expressed by those present, that the ministerial, in this way, will have both Protestant and Catholic representation and of the stimulation this might add to future meetings.

Von Busse - Lease Agreement - Greenhouse

Mr. Wheatley pointed out that an Agreement had been drawn up by the Town's solicitors, and had been received by the Town this afternoon. Councillor Bakker felt that the agreement should be discussed with Mr. Von Busse first, and then referred back to the Joint Committee for approval. However, it was generally felt that the Mayor and the Secretary-Treasurer should execute the Agreement. Councillor Wheatley moved that this Agreement be accepted and executed by the Mayor and the Secretary-Treasurer, on behalf of the Town. Motion was carried.

working population of the Town be asked at the next annual census. Carried. Mayor Fowler asked if Council wished to have the questionnaire presented to them. Councillor Wheatley moved that the questionnaire be prepared by Mr. Wheatling or other members of the Town staff, and submitted to the Finance Committee for approval. Carried.

Additional Office Staff - New Positions
Councillor Barker made reference to an advertisement in the local paper. Councillor Barker pointed out that any new position must be approved by Council, which in this case, had not been done. It was noted at this time, that the senior staff had consulted with the Mayor, in regard to this new position in the accounting department, and only then had proceeded with this advertisement. Councillor Barker moved that if any permanent employee has to be added to the staff, the addition be justified through the Finance Committee which acts as the personnel Committee, for recommendation to Council.

It was pointed out to Council that the information of the working population of the Town could be done at the time of taking the annual census in January of 1966. It was felt by Council, that the Town could not cope with a Centre at the present time. Councillor Barker moved that questions on the

"CARREFOUR"

INTERVIEW

Louise, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Philippe Morin of St. Albert, is entering University of Alberta this fall for her third year in Education. Miss Morin will major in French. In the article which follows she tells of her two week stay in Quebec.

"CARREFOUR"

Imagine finding "Alberta" in the province of Quebec! This is what greeted me and two other young Albertans on a hillside overlooking the town of Baie St-Paul, some sixty miles east of Quebec city. "Alberta" is one of ten cabins surrounding a kitchen-cum-hall, a tiny store, an assembly hall, and a house for the directors. The cabins are only big enough to house two sets of bunkbeds made of tarpaulins stretched across a frame of wood planks. Having been built entirely by students during their vacations, the whole establishment is rather crude, thus giving the camper a chance to get a taste of cold water, cold beds, and the cold winds of the Atlantic.

Forty-three young women between the ages of seventeen and twenty-two climbed up the hill to the site of "L'UPA" (Universite plain-air des Miquelots) on Friday, August 3. Most of us were students, but about three of our fellow-campers were beginning their second or third year of teaching. We had representatives from New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Quebec, Saskatchewan and Alberta. Many were there by the generosity of Quebec's Ministry of Cultural Affairs who acted upon a request for a grant from the "Societe St-Jean Baptiste", of Quebec. The Society, which is a Roman Catholic, strictly "canadien-francais" organization, was experimenting this year with groups such as ours in order to help young Canadians communicate across the miles that separate them. Of course our days were overflowing with activity: we would get up at 8:00 A.M., wash, dress, and meet around the flagpoles to raise the flag and sing a camp song. After breakfast we would speak with a knowledgeable guest on many subjects such as "Youth and National Action", "Socialization," "The Political Institutions of Canada," and "Cooperatives". Following a Mass and lunch, we would either go on a hike in the mountains, go swimming in the bay, or work at a project such as the Saturday night variety show. Then another discussion, supper, sports, and a social evening awaited us before we would say an evening prayer and lower the flag. Needless to say, between 8 A.M. and 11:30 P.M., we had a wonderful opportunity to speak with all the other girls who were only too anxious to know that our province's economic, social, and cultural life consisted of, and what situation as French-Canadians occupy in Alberta. Once we had answered this, they continued with questions on our view-point of Quebec's problems, on our favor or disfavor with certain policies on our feelings towards Quebec as our grandparents' home and resting place of our French-Canadian legacy. That's more our conference and discussions with the adults who came to the campsite only sharpened our interest in these questions while we endeavored to understand their mentality in order to communicate more efficiently with them. Most gratifying of all were, of course, those relations with the others. Only through them could we see what Quebec is. I saw it as a "dormant" province till the end of the Duplessis era, when the people woke up to find themselves much behind the other provinces. Thus began the burst of energy which is evident all over the province today. Quebecers do not have nice roads; they have only two bridges connecting Montreal to the site of Expo '67. Just as the system of education has been revised in the last few years, so will these defaults be corrected. Meanwhile, they are burdened with a six percent tax on all dry goods, which brings the price of our forty-five cent package of cigarettes to fifty-one cents in "La belle province."

Thus in the Quebec of today, we did see many unpleasant things, but we saw other very pleasing aspects. The first thing that struck us is their truly Latin character: They will earn up to a stranger as easily as I eat apple pie, but they are hot-tempered and passionate. The only thing that they seem to be indifferent to are the "no parking" signs, and the speed limits. A bottle of wine, an accordion, and a place to dance are the typical ingredients to a good night's fun in Quebec. Yet the cultural life of the province is very active as compared to our province. Drama schools, art schools, theatre plays, music societies, universities, and museums are not a rarity in Quebec. If you will pardon a parenthesis here, I would like to mention Quebec city's "Rue des Tresors" as one of the most interesting little streets in Canada since many students from "L'Ecole des beaux arts" go there to display and sell their art work. These people do not want to appear complex, they only wish to express themselves as they are, with all their traditions and their aspirations. This wish does not prevent them to allow the minorities to express themselves also, because in Quebec all minorities have as much representation in governmental departments as does the majority.

Throughout our six day camp and our travels in the region, one of the best ways to open these persons to us was that we made it clear that we did not think of Quebecers as separatists. This relaxed them and they happily answered all our questions as well as advancing a few of their own. Happy to have seen the Laurentians and felt the warmth of the French-Canadian heart as well as the cold of the winds and waters of "la belle province", we returned to our homes with joy. We found that the camp was a real success because we were able to speak to these Canadians with frankness. Allow me to thank the Society of Saint John the Baptist of Quebec, the Minister of Cultural Affairs, and Father J.P. Tremblay, the director of the camp, for making our carefree trip possible and our stay so pleasant. I would also like to thank Mrs. Lafabvre for inviting me to write this bit of narrative and the editor for accepting it.

Social - On their return from a month's vacation to Europe, Janada appeared broad and spacious to the De Luca Family who by now have settled down to routine living at 62 Sunset Boulevard. Mr. & Mrs. Carmine De Luca and their family of one son and three daughters travelled by air on a chartered flight arranged by the London Society.

In England, they were re-united with Mrs. Donatto De Luca, mother of Mr. De Luca in Watford, and his sister Mrs. Phyllis Peters, as well as his brother and family in Hartford. They also visited Scotland where two more brothers reside.

Crossing to the continent, they passed through Belgium and France, finally arriving in Italy where they spent 18 days. They made Casimo their headquarters at Mrs. Donatto De Luca's family home, as guests of Mr. Arturo De Luca and his wife, Philomena, where they visited the very famous and secluded Monastery. During their stay they visited St. Peters in Rome, marvelled at the works of Art, the beautiful churches which almost defy description, and the breathtaking scenery viewed at every turn. Their tour included cities such as Florence, Naples, Milan, Pisa and Capri. The many new roads made travel pleasant and they especially acclaimed the new tunnel built between France and Italy which takes one eight miles through the Alps. A wonderful feat in engineering, they explain that traffic is radar-controlled along double-lanes, and that excellent lighting gave the traveller an added sense of of security. By way of the Riviera, they made their way through Paris, Calais and then back to England.

Their month's travel ended only too quickly but to the De Luca family we say we're glad you are home again.

Friends and residents of St. Albert and surrounding areas who know the talent of Mrs. Thomas Bessy, the former Irene Lafranchise, who so often delighted us with organ recitals, will be saddened by the fact that she has left for Seattle, Washington. Mr. Bessy is entering the University of Washington where he will further his studies in Drama while Irene daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Remi Lafranchise will continue her musical profession by fulfilling engagements already made in that area. She will also study music. Audiences in numerous places of entertainment and private clubs where patrons came to hear her will miss the pleasing performances and the vast selection of music with which she kept them spell-bound. Playing at the Seven Hundred Wing for the past ten months, she was also featured at the Caravan Motor Hotel and Warwicks to mention just a few.

Among the many activities in which she took part, Irene was organist at many Church functions and weddings in St. Albert and Edmonton.

St. Albert wishes success to Mr. & Mrs. T. Bessy, hoping they will return in the near future.

Mr. & Mrs. Lafranchise's daughter, Simone, has also left for Grande Prairie where her husband, Edward Martyna, has accepted the post of Teacher of Commerce at the new Technical School which is sponsored jointly by the Public and Separate Schools. Mr. & Mrs. Martyna will make their home in Grande Prairie with their small son, James.

Simone, besides being employed as a secretary for a firm of Chartered Accountants in Edmonton, was ever active in the Girl Guide movement, being Captain of the 1st St. Albert Girl Guide Co. until her marriage. Mr. & Mrs. Martyna were the originators of the Badminton Club in St. Albert in 1960, Edward being President and Simone, Secretary. Together they challenged other Clubs including Edmonton receiving many trophies, playing both singly and as a team. We hope they like their new home and position.

Mr. & Mrs. Lafranchise's only son, Michael, is a graduate Hair Stylist and is presently in Toronto, gaining experience and studying different and distinctive hair stylings before his return to western Canada.

Club Notes - St. Albert W.I. will meet at the home of Mrs. Crough, 9 Birch Dr. on Tuesday, September 28th at 8 P.M.

Recipes Dill - Spice for Pickles

Watching a friend preparing cucumbers for dill pickles from her lovely garden, it was no surprise to see dill picked at the same time fresh from her garden as well, but on our voyage for spices we were amazed that India was the only country offering this spice for sale. We needed ground dill for cooking certain dishes, so we put some in our shopping basket. It is a tan color, the flavor being similar to caraway, but milder and sweeter. Ground dill is used in potato salad, macaroni, cottage and cream cheeses; split pea soup, navy bean soup, cream of tomato soup; apple pie; broiled lamb chops, lamb stew; creamed chicken; French dressing, sour cream salad dressing; drawn butter for shellfish; spiced vinegar; peas, carrots, beets, cabbage, cauliflower, snap beans, turnips. Add $\frac{1}{2}$ tsp. ground dill seed or $\frac{1}{2}$ tsp. whole dill seed to 2 Tbsp. melted butter or margarine. Toss with any vegetable as above as well as onions, celery and potatoes. This preparation is called 'Dill Butter'.

UNITED CHURCH

A very fine attendance at Sunday School was recorded last Sunday when just over 300 children attended. A Sunday School of this size places a great responsibility upon the members of the congregation to provide adequate facilities, the best material for teaching, and a group of dedicated men and women who are willing to give of their time and energy in teaching, and relating the life and message of Jesus Christ to our children. Our gratitude is extended to those who are doing their part, sharing in this great work. Mr. Stuart Rindero, Superintendent of the Sunday School has indicated need for still more help. Assistance is needed for Grade 4 and Grade 5 children. Two more directors are required; one in the Primary Department and one in the Junior Department. These directors would not be required to teach, and men would be preferred. Also, a teacher for Grade 1 class at the 11:00 A.M. service is needed. If you could help, please contact Mr. Rindero at 599-6204.

A service of Infant Baptism is planned for this Sunday at 11:00 A.M. Anyone wishing to have children baptized at this

ANGLICAN CHURCH

Dear Mr. Musto: Our thanks are extended to the community and to all those who have, in their support, helped us to achieve the success it was. The poor weather no doubt affected attendance, but despite this the results were excellent. The awareness that the possibility of divorce exists makes it possible to magnify and dwell upon frictions which in a healthier state of society would be brushed at and forgotten." Next Sunday at 11:00 A.M., the sermon will attempt to deal with divorce from a Christian point of view.

Attendance last week was most encouraging. This raises a problem with respect to books and seating. Have you considered attending at 4 A.M. A short instruction is given and children are well-

DIFFERENT citizens are worried about the place of destination of the power refund. Some have expressed this in letters to the Editor which we published in this issue. Before the Mayor and Council of St. Albert are placed in the wrong light regarding this matter, we thought it would be fair to hear also the opinion of the Mayor of St. Albert which we published in this issue.

Dear Sir:

The St. Albert Gazette of September 18, and the Edmonton Journal of September 14 reported that your Council has been negotiating a new Agreement with Calgary Power Ltd. A considerable amount of confusion would appear to exist among our residents regarding Council's intention.

The present Agreement with Calgary Power Ltd., was signed on October 8, 1958, and does not expire until October 8, 1968. Calgary Power Ltd., were requested to review the rates early this year and on July 1, 1965, came forward with a proposed new Agreement which would set the

St. Albert rates the same as the City of Edmonton rates. Calgary Power Ltd., are prepared to implement this new Ten Year Agreement immediately. Your Council feels that it is not in the best interests of the residents to accept this new Ten Year Agreement without further study and negotiations for the following reasons: 1) Calgary Power Ltd. do not under the present agreement pay a franchise to the Town of St. Albert, as does the only other private utility serving our Town. 2) The Town of St. Albert requires additional sources of revenue other than the ratepayer. 3) The fact that it is a Ten Year Agreement demands that your Council give this matter extra careful consideration. 4) The Federal Government has recently commented to rebate 75% of the Federal Corporation Tax paid by Calgary Power Ltd., which the Provincial Government demands be returned to the consumer in lower rates which will mean a reduction of approximately 14%.

It has been stated that had the new rates applied for the total year of 1965 there would have been a saving of $63,266.17 to the consumers. However, it must be kept in mind that the Agreement was not offered until mid July, and was not retroactive and you are, therefore, entitled to know how and where the savings were to be made:

1. Commercial Customers SAVE $16,149 or average yearly saving of $23.00.
2. Commercial Customers SAVE $1,714 or average yearly saving of 4%.

4. Special Customers SAVE $8,800 or an average yearly saving of $2,800.
5. All Residents SAVE $37,000 or an average yearly saving of $18.90.
As can be seen from the above, seventy-five commercial users, or 5% of the total consumers receive 42% of the savings, while 95% of the users, being the residential consumers obtain 58% of the savings. The average monthly savings to the residential consumer would be $1.94 per month.
And the above figures are based on Calgary Power projections submitted to the Town and do NOT take into account the Federal Government rebate which will further lower the new proposed rates of approximately 14%.

four Council is convinced that you are entitled to rates as low as the City of Edmonton and are working as diligently as possible toward this objective while at the same time, making every attempt to create new sources of revenue which will reflect in lower taxes on your property. If this demands the study of a possible "take over" of the power distribution system, your Council will be remiss in their duties and obligations to the ratepayers, if this study was not undertaken.

It is not necessarily your Council's desire to be in the Power distribution business, however, it is our desire to obtain: 1. Equal or lower rates than the City of Edmonton. 2. A franchise charge for the signing of a new agreement. If the above cannot be obtained in a new agreement, your Council is obligated to investigate the matter further.

LOW ON THE TOWN

Taxpayers and consumers have always felt themselves low man on the totem pole, and this week comes another example of why.

As frequently happens, ordinary citizens elected to public office suddenly become imbued with far greater wisdom than is displayed by those who elected them, and feel they can spend the other chap's money to much better advantage than he can. Faced with the possibility of a reduction in electric power rates to consumers, as Calgary Power prays on the rebate in federal income taxal contributions in St. Albert this week virtually dismissed and are still assessing the possibility of obtaining the same refund for the town, rather than seeing it return to the user who pays the power bill simply because it would mean only about a dollar per month to the average user. If taxes have to go up, then let's by all means increase taxes and be honest about it. But let's not sneak around behind the ratepayer's back and institute a new form of taxation on the grounds of keeping down the mill rate. And let's not hear this nonsense about our brother getting more for our money.

By the way, when's Calgary Power going to announce any reduction in this district?

Note Editor: The opinion of "The Tofield Mercury" is a little bit over-hasty and beside the facts. Not at any place or time, the Council of St. Albert has stated that the Power Refund should go to the Town and not to the Consumer. A suggestion or thought of one or two Councilors doesn't mean that the Mayor and Council as a whole would agree to it. It certainly was not the meaning of Council to obtain the entire refund! Editorials based on news from a newspaper are most of the time beside the facts without the so necessary background.

Dear Sir,

I read with dismay, an article in the Edmonton Journal, stating the St. Albert Council felt a reduction in electrical rates to consumers, could be more profitably used by the municipality. In my opinion, this assumption is false. The penalty for living in St. Albert, is excessive utility rates, higher taxes, and (as the majority of people work in Edmonton) higher transportation costs. Assuming St. Albert wants to expand, the sooner the cost of living in St. Albert is in line with Edmonton, the better. How often have you heard the old lament "What St. Albert needs is more industry" without a doubt, a reduction in at least one utility rate would help. Even real estate may pick up a trifle. In any case, it is just about time the people living in this town got a break, even if it is only $1.00 per month.

From the Recreation Director

Yes, we are competing with television. The St. Albert Parks and Recreation Department is sponsoring numerous activities for young and old in order to keep people busy, active, and happy. In co-operation with other recreation organizations, we want to offer opportunities for people to learn new exciting activities in order to meet the future hours of boredom and leisure time. We want to challenge you. We want to compete with the leisure hours in today's modern society and the inactivity caused by automation. We want to fight boredom, delinquency, mental illness, and other such hazards of our modern society. In co-operation with other organizations we want to offer you something that you can do in the future; something to challenge your creativeness, your talents and strengths. We would like to encourage new activities at a cost anyone can afford. Individuals unable to pay the lab fees or dues charged by the Department are welcome to take the classes free upon notification and approval of the Department and Recreation Board. It is the hope of the Department to co-ordinate the facilities and programs of all organizations, days, times, ages, etc. in order to stop duplication. We will be approaching groups in an attempt to bring about this co-ordination. We invite organizations, clubs, and individuals to contact us in regard to their program.

Please see outline of classes operating this fall. We are especially happy with the outstanding instructor calibre of each class, and we are sure you will enjoy the instruction. Remember to register for your family on September 29, at the Clubhouse.

Weaving - Special Government Class - The Arts and Crafts Division of the Provincial Government in co-operation with the St. Albert Parks and Recreation Department will be sponsoring a 36 hour concentrated weaving course starting October 7, at 7:00 P.M. A minimum of 10 and a maximum of 12 is required with a pre-registration before October 1, 1965. For further information and registration call Mrs. L. Holgersen at 599-6601, ext. 706.
